In a race for gentlemen riders at six furlongs

In a race for gentlemen riders at six furlongs Shot Gun, The Wrestler and Robin Hood may go well.

Two-year-olds will run in the first race, at six furlongs, with Spooner, Monopolist and Adriana possibly the best. For the steeple-chase, at about two miles, Guardian, Kernel and Realm may be the factors. In the fifth race, for maiden two-year-olds, six furlongs, Parkview, Hessian and Explosion look formidable. In the last race, for platers at a mile and a sixteenth, Saylor, Ed Ball and First Mason may finish as named. The entries follow:

First Race—For two-year-olds; six furlongs:
Jubilee. 115 Queen Marguerite.
Earl G. 115 Miss Angle.
Spooner. 115 Montauk.
Sir Cleges. 110 Countermand.

BRIGHTON STEWARDS ARE HOT AFTER ROUGH RIDERS.

Scoville Suspended for a Week and Two Horses Disqualified-W. Du Bois Blds Up Durnell's Joe Nealon and Is Commended-Western Horses for Yonkers;

The disqualification of two horses that had finished in the money at Brighton Beach yesterday served to prove that the stewards officiating there intend to insist upon clean racing and will deal harshly with rough riders. The crowd was a bit surprised when J. O. Keene's Red Leaf, who had taken place money in the second event, was ruled out, for no apparent fouling on her part had been en during the running of the race. But J. Fitzgerald, the presiding steward, explained that Red Leaf as she broke away from the post had cut across in front of several horses in a way that could not be overlooked. Scoville, who rode the mare, was also suspended for one week. After the third race had been run and R. T. Wilson Jr.'s Sanguine had been placed second by the judges Garner was called into the stew-ards' stand and asked to explain why his ount had repeatedly interfered with Scallop in the run through the Stretch. Garner admitted that the colt had fouled Scallop, but said that he could not keep Sanguine straight. The result of this was that Scallop was moved up into the place. Red Leaf and Sanguine were both well backed across the boards.

When Boots Durnell's Joe Nealon won the third race, for which he was entered to be sold for $1,000, a crowd gathered around he judges' stand expecting a runup. When bids were called for William H. DuBois, the owner of Charles Edward, bid $1,500. Durnell, who seemed to be taken completely by sur-prise, protected the oolt with the usual $5 increase. But DuBois then bid $2,000, $2,500 and finally $3,000, Durnell protecting each time. As DuBois hurried away the gossips got busy. All sorts of yarns were soon in circulation as to the motive which prompted the boost, for not so very long ago JuBois and Durnell were business partners in the ownership of the mare Lotus. But DuBois afterward explained that he had no personal feelings in the matter, that he aimply wanted to get some more horses for his racing stable and that he used his privilege as a turfman to bid up and buy Joe Nealon or any other colt or flily if it were in impression prevails that if a winner of a selling race is bid up it is the result of enmity or a feud of some sort. Selling races are put on the programme presumably for the purpose of placing good horses on the market. Any man of responsibility has a right to bid on a winner or claim a beaten horse out of one of these races, so that the usual howl from owners who run their horses n selling events for amounts much below their real value in order to secure light weights is uncalled for. DuBois had a perfect right to bid up Joe Nealon and his action was commended by iturfmen who have seen Durnell's horses entered in these events for A novel arrangement of the bookmakers in the "field ring" went into effect yesterday and was highly successful. Instead of arranging the layers in a circle, Ringmaster Cavanagh has placed them in a series of rows, with broad aisles between, so that it is the easiest possible task for the crowd to get in and out of the pavilion. The field layers said after the races yesterday that the new plan enabled all of them to get a whack at the business, while the bettors for the first ime were permitted to make their wagers without confusion. The old circular arrangement is still in vogue in the "big ring," but there may be a change one of these days if the "field plan" continues to be a success.

Congressman Joseph Rhinock, a stock-holder in the Latonia track, was at Brighton yesterday and said that according to a ruling of the Kentucky State Racing Commission Latonia will have to close on Saturday. Last year there were ninety days of racing at Latonia, while this year there have been only thirty. There are 1,200 horses at the Kentucky track, and as the other Western race courses are practically all closed many of these animals will be brought East. Con-gressman Rhinock said that in view of the expected invasion there would be plenty of gressman Rhinock said that in view of the expected invasion there would be plenty of racing material if a meeting at Yonkers is held next month. It was said yesterday that James Butler, the owner of the Empire City track, having received a license from the State Racing Commission, had made a formal application to the Jockey Club for dates for a meeting to open August 5. It was also stated that work had been begun at the Yonkers track to get it in proper condition, and that even if the dates asked for were not granted there would be a meeting there just he same, with the expectation of patronage

Green, by Ben Brush-Runaway Girl, will race no more. It was learned yesterday that the gelding had virtually broken down in his work and would be thrown out of training at As a two-year-old he won a number of stakes last spring, but went wrong in mid ecently, but did not show his old form.

A chance to pull off a sensational killing with F. R. Hitchcock's Keep Moving, a Yanke other day she was heavily backed, but this time she opened at 4 to 1 and receded to 9, then there was a light play on her. John E Madden, her trainer, had a small wager on her across the boards, while other paddock a former tipster had cleaned up $60,000 on the filly and that his bets had been placed by three agents dressed to look like rough miners. but the bookmakers said after the race that the report was a canard.

"To win $60,000 on Keep Moving," said a ring sharp, "would mean that a fellow would have to bet seven or eight thousand dollars, in which event instead of closing at 8 to 1. the filly would have been backed down to 8

The public lost a bundle on Gene Russell, the favorite in the first race, but The Squire was well played for the place, while Zagg was liberally taken to show. Billy Lake-and's Question Mark was a hot tip in this ace, as he was backed from 50 down to 10. Jack McGinnis's Castlewood was also lowered

The wise money poured into the ring on John Smulski in the second race, the old sher horse being reduced from 3 to 5 to 2, while Durnell's Savable went back from 8 to 4. Punvallo was also lowered from 6 to 4, while Red Leaf, Clements and Water Dog were taken three ways. Frank Regan won a nice bet on Kilter, but the success of his colt and the disqualification of Red Leaf enabled the books to clean up. in the third event, the big operators backing him down to 3 to 5, which made Scallop go back from 5 to 2 to 4 to 1 Sanguine and Sweet Tairs were also well supported three

The ring paid out a large amount on the sucess of Lady Anne, who was played from 5 down to 7 to 2. Jacobite, who ran in Durnell's went back to 2 to 1. Durnell paid $5,000 for alm out of the Paget sale last week, but he was ntered in the Jamaica Stakes for $1,500. Botanist, who was a hot tip, was backed from 15 down to 8, while Clara Russell was lowered om 15 to 10. Zal stumbled and fell on the nackstretch, but Jockey Preston scrambled his feet practically unhurt except for a alcing up. Previous winners of the Jamaica ikes were Briar Sweet, Voter, First Whip, Chics, Gay Boy, Major Pelham, Nannie Hodge (twice). Lady Anne was entered to sold for $1,000, but she was run up to $2,500 by D. T. Winslow, trainer for the Krous family, Owner McDowell retaining the mare with the

The talent was up in the air as to the estion of whether Cairngorm or Far West uid win the fifth race, so that both went the post at 8 to 5. The Millerites, who had a field day, went to the former for what proved lot of easy money. Cederstrome was timo and Riffeman, while Velours was lowered from 15 to 12. Arimo had a lot of early speed and will win soon. Dave Gideon and his friends did not bet

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK on Lady Karma, who won the sixth race in his colors at 10 to 1. Thousands were lost on Commodore Anson, who was backed off the boards; also on Woodwitch.

Sandossie, who was beaten off in the last race, was played from 40 to 10. Golden Shore and Orphan Lad also burned up good coin, but there was a cleanup with The Wrestler. The books all won on the day.

An able seaman wearing the uniform of the United States battleship Connecticut did some big betting at the Beach yesterday. His best wager was $1,000 on Joe Nealon at 7 to 16, made with Sol Lichtenstein. On Wednesday he had another $1,000 wager on Rye, and a similar bet on Megg's Hill, at 7 to 20 and 3 to 5 respectively. The sailor has a bankroll which he says he accumulated playing the reset playing the races.

LADY ANNE'S TRACK RECORD.

Wins Jamaica Stakes, Six Furlongs, in 1:11 4-5.

T. C. McDowell's Lady Anne, backed down to 7 to 2, not only won the Jamaica Selling Stakes, at six furlongs, at Brighton Beach yesterday, but also hung up a new track record of 1:11 4-5, one-fifth of a second slower than Roseben's world's record, made at Belmont Park lact fall. Miller had the leg up on Lady Anne and he rushed her to the front at the start. start. Boots Durnell's Jacobite, 2 to 1 favorstart. Boots Durnell's Jacobite, 2 to 1 favorite, was after the Kinley Mack filly full tilt, but the former had to be pulled up at the end of the far turn because Clare Russell, with a sudden burst of speed, shut him off. After that E. Dugan took Jacobite to the cutside and went after Lady Anne again, but the latter was too much for him and beat him, ridden out, by a length and a half. Jacobite was three parts of a length in front of Red River, 6 to 1, who beat Hyperion II. 10 to 1. a head.

6 to 1, who beat Hyperion II., 10 to 1, a head.

Miller, who was in fine form all the aftermoon, got through on the rail at the head of the stretch with Caingorm, 8 to 5, and won the handicap at a mile and a sixteenth in a gallop by three lengths from Far West, 8 to 5, who led for seven furiongs and then took the place from Cederstrome, 8 to 1, by a head.

Miller's third success was with The Wrestler, 13 to 5 favorite, in the seventh event, for three-year-olds, six furlongs, the Orlando gelding making all the pace and beating Orphan Lad.

year-olds, six furlongs, the Orlando gelding making all the pace and beating Orphan Lad, 4 to 1, by a length and a half in 1:121-5. Easton, 15 to 1, was a poor third.

Boots Durnell's Joe Nealon, 3 to 5 favorite, made a wonderful rush through the homestretch and won the third event, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, by three parts of a length in 1:13 4-5. Sanguine, 8 to 1, who interfered with Scallop in the stretch and finished second, was disqualified, which moved Miller's mount, Scallop, 4 to 1, into the place, with Youthful, 20 to 1, third.

For cutting across the field at the start of the second race, for platers, at a mile and a furlong, Red Leaf, 8 to 1, was also disqualified by the stewards. Kilter, 8 to 1, won this event, with John Smulski, 5 to 2 favorite, in the place, and Clements, 6 to 1, Miller up, third. Savable, 4 to 1, led for three-quarters of a mile but backed up under the pace. The time was 1:53.

F. R. Hitchoock's Keep Moving, 8 to 1, beat the gate in the first event, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, and won in a canter by three lengths in 1:08 3-5. Miller landed The Squire, 5 to 2, in the place, five lengths before Zagg, 15 to 1, who beat Bell-wether, 12 to 1, half a length. The start, which was bad, killed the chance of Gene Russell, 11 to 5 favorite, at six furlongs. Mintheria, 6 to 1, was third, three parts of a length back and closing with a rush. Commodore Anson, 8 to 5 favorite, got into a jam just after the start and Garner had a narrow escape from a fall. The time was 1:13 1-5. Four favorites were defeated, and the attendance was about 15,000. The summaries:

Stallings Not for New York Americans. "I have not engaged George Stallings to manage the New York Americans next season or any other season," said Frank Farrell, owner of the club, yesterday, "and have no owner of the club, yesterday, "and have no intention of doing so. Reports that I have are ridiculous and have not the least foundation in fact. I never considered Stallings as a manager for the team; in fact, have not entertained any thought of getting a successor to Griffith. Griffith has served me faithfully by working his hardest for the New York club's interest and he has not failed to make good by any means. He has come within an ace of winning the pennant twice, and that is doing pretty well. He has been handicapped by an unusual amount of hard luck in having players injured, and I consider that he is entitled to continued opportunity to try to make a pennant winner of the team."

BOTH EGANS OUT OF TOURNEY three he had the match, with two holes to spare The card for sixteen holes was:

FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND A HARD BLOW TO THE WEST. Champion Byers Wins in Morning and Afternoon-Travers Beats Herreshoff While Travis Disposes of Lyon-Four Eastern and Four Western Golfers Left In.

CLEVELAND, July 11.-Four Eastern and four Western golfers survived the first day of match play at the national championship to-day over the Euclid links. The Eastern contingent still in the hunt are Travis, Travers and Graham of New York and West of Philadelphia. For the West, Chicago claims Saw-yer and Wood, and the allegiance of Byers and W. C. Fownes is due to Pittsburg.

Rain in the afternoon did not keep the gallery off the course. The clubhouse was as dry as a bone, the rain spouted in torrents from its gabled roof, but the onlookers deserted its shelter. The women stayed in the open tents and overlooked what they could of the play, disregarding the drops that sprinkled through the canvas.

Out on the course men who had umbrellas or mackintoshes walked bravely along in the wake of the pairs, while those not so protected skinned in the letups of the storm from tree to tree. They were well wet, but nothing could dampen their enthusiasm. After the matches there was the usual gayety in the clubhouse and automobiles , were aligned before the door as though a second Glidden tour was to be started.

The morning was one of catastrophe for the West, although Sawyer, Wood and Weber glowed as brightly as rainbows after the stress of the storm. Think of the two Egans being beaten in the first round.

Chandler Egan, twice amateur champion

Chandler Egan, twice amateur champion and winner of countless other titles, has usually been the one best bet at tournaments, yet he fell as quickly as his cousin Walter. who from recent scores had not been so well fancied.

that it was at the hands of Ned Sawyer, runnerup to Egan at Wheaton in 1905, and the best golfer in the West, except when pitted against him. The hypnotic spell vanished to-day forevermore. Going out Sawyer ran down all sorts of puts, those at the seventh and ninth greens being of some twenty-five feet.

At the turn Sawyer was 3 up. Egan topped the drive from the tenth tee, but by weak putting Sawyer had to concede him the half. Sawyer was bunkered on his second for the Sawyer was bunkered on his second for the eleventh and Egan had an easy win in 4. Thereafter they halved everything, Sawyer missing a short put to win the thirteenth, which gave the match to Sawyer by 2 and 1. Egan won the bye hole in 3, and this made his medal score a stroke under that of the victor. The cards:

Walter Egan was 2 up on Fraser at the turn, but the latter beat him out by 1 up. The cards were 81 and 83. Fraser twice left stimies to the Chicago player, each of which cost him a hole. Other incidents of the morning of significance included the victory of the title-holder, Byers, over his fellow townsman by 2 up. Out in 38 Byers stood 3 up at the turn, but Macbeth later squared the match and only a finish in par on the last two holes defeated him by 2 down. This was the card: Byers:

Archie Reid did 79 in putting out Jones.
The only other morning match of prophetic interest was between West, the Princeton boy, who burned up the course in the score rounds, and Barnes of Englewood. Although 2 down at the turn West made a spurt on the in holes and won out. Their cards:

Travers:

claim had no support from the gollers in the gallery.

Archie Reid of St. Andrews could not withstand the attacks of W. C. Fownes, and the lefthanded Canadian, Martin, although he had the match square at the eighth, could not hold Sawyer. The latter made a great score, winning by 4 and 2, and playing out the bye holes for a 74. The Western champion, now that his bogey, Chandler Egan, is out of the way, will take a lot of beating. The card was:

Archie Graham went out in 38 with Childs and beat him with some strokes up his sleeve. His fine long game is being well backed up by consistent putting. If this continues Graham may upset the best laid plans of the talent.

Travis and Lyon were the last two out. He and the Canadian had never met before in a championship match and they had a hot contest. Travis took a lead of 2 up at the fourth, but at the seventh Lyon was on even terms with him. They halved the next two in dashing golf, so that they faced the tenth all square. They halved it in 4.

On the eleventh Travis drove very short, but a strong brassey shot brought him to as near a place to the green as Lyon had gained

The Cincinnatis could not hit Wiltse, which fact made their game appear passive and organically weak. There was half an hour's delay before play began while the rain kept everybody in doubt as to whether there would be a contest. When the rain drew off the infield was all right, but the grass slippery and the Cincinnati outfielders had a hard time and the Cincinnati outliefders had been seen to the keeping their feet when in pursuit of the far flung hits that the New Yorks sent past Beach to-day, but the card is of interest just the same. The feature is a handicap at a mile and a quarter for which Banker, three hits in the first inning and three runs from one hit in the third. Shannon and Browne each converted the first ball pitched into a base hit in the first inning, Devlin sacrificed and Seymour rushed a single between first and second bases that scored Shannon and Browne. In the third Spike and George did another brother act, but by less muscular means. Bases on balls propelled them to first, Handy Arthur was on deck again with another sacrifice and Hannifan hit to right centre for a home run. Hannifan was assisted in his flight by the trouble the Reds had in obtaining a secure footing in handling the relayed ball.

The squeeze play gave the New Yorks a run in the fourth. Bowerman's deftness in handling an awkward situation made it possible. Strang was panning on third after making a three bagger when the squeeze was ordered. The ball pitched to Bowerman was over his head, but Bowerman met it with an upward thrust of the bat and poled it to the ground in front of Mason. Strang was on the plate before Mason could throw the ball, and the latter had to be content with getting Bowerman at first.

A good throw by Mitchell doubled Browne at the plate in the fifth inning when George tried to beat it in from third on Devlin's outfield fly. Wiltse doubled in the seventh inning and flashed to the finish mark on Shannon's bunt. It was a spirited bit of running that Wiltse did to come in from second on an infield hit. He had started for third with the pitch, and the play in effect was scoring from second on the squeeze.

The New Yorks hit the ball in the eighth on a rising scale. Hannifan trundled a grounder to Kane and was at Ganzelburg ahead of the ball. Dahlen doubled to left, Hannifan going to third. Strang drilled a hole in the mist with a smash to right that not only scored Hannifan and Dahlen but brought Sammy the Swatter to the rubber standing up—the second circuit slam of the day emanating from the strong armed sluggers of the metropolis. The fleet is noticeably more confined to sailing yachts than usual, the number of steam craft being much smaller than in past years.

Among the most noticeable yachts of the fleet are the Taormina, W. S. Eaton; Quisetta, W. C. Eustace; Hope Leslie, L. Minot; Emerald, F. Lewis Clark; Avenger, R. W. Emmons, 2d; Doris, S. Reed Anthony, Humma, R. T. Paine, 2d; Sea Dog, C. K. Cummings; Dervish, H. A. Morse, and Gloriana, Gordon Abbott.

The fleet anchored in Brunt Coat Harbor, Swan's Island, on the western side of Mount Desert, Wednesday night and started at 10 c'clock this morning under most favorable weather conditions for the run to Bar Harbor, a distance of about twenty-five miles. The fleet came in well together and immediately anchored. To-night a dinner was held at the Kebo Valley Club, at which the prizes were awarded. The principal one, a handately anchored. to make it a permanent annual event, and to hold the next show in London in 1908. The hold the next show in London in 1908. The French directors strongly pleaded that the show be held in Paris, but they finally agreed, as thousands of persons were turned away at Olympia, that there should be two successive shows in London.

The 1909 show will be held in Paris. The directors are discussing the building in London of a new hall thrice the size of Olympia, which is regarded as being too small for the purposes of the show. A syndicate has offered to build such a building, seating 20,000 persons, with an arena 600 feet by 320. The directors have just signed checks disbursing £7,500 in prize money. The American recipients include Mr. Winans, £1,087, Mr. Vanderbilt, £310; Mr. Maclay, £1,098, and Mr. Watson, £180.

CEDARHURST, L. I. July 11 .- Despite a heavy downpour of rain the first team of Dedham played the second team of Meadow Brook on the field of the Rockaway Hunt Club cups to-day as fast a polo game as has been seen here this season, but the former team, after allowing the Long Island team team, after ellowing the Long Island team two goals, went down to defeat for the Blizzard cups by 13 to 44. The first two periods were played under clear skies, but at the best laid plans of the talent.

Travis and Lyon were the last two out. He and the Canadian had never met before in a championship match and they had a hot contest. Travis took a lead of 2 up at the fourth, but at the seventh Lyon was on even terms with him. They halved the next two in dashing golf, so that they faced the tenth all square. They halved it in 4.

On the eleventh Travis drove very short, but a strong brassey shot brought him to as near a place to the green as Lyon had gained on his iron. Travis outplayed the Canadian anateur champion on the approaches and took the lead with a 4 to 5. A 3 and 5 to follow made Travis 3 up, and as he balved the next

LITTLE AND HACKETT WIN. Finish in Lead in Westchester Tourney With Clean State of Victories.

As far as first place is concerned in the round robin men's doubles invitation lawn tennis tournament at the Country Club of Westchester the play yesterday ended the competition. Harold H. Hackett and Raymond D. Little of the West Side T. C. defeated William A. Larned, Orange L. T. C., and George L. Wrenn, Jr., of the Westchester club in straight sets rather easily and thereby won their fourth match. That gives them the first place in the tournament with a clean score. The matches have been of benefit too in helping Hackett to get into condition to play the challenge round in the New York State tournament now in progress on the courts of the New York A. C. Hackett is the holder of the title. courts of the New York A. C. Hackett is the holder of the title.

The other match played yesterday in the round robin doubles was between the Pell-Le Roy and Wright-E. P. Larned combinations. The former won rather easily, although one set went to deuce in games. This result puts Wright and Larned on a percentage basis even with Pell and Le Roy. The latter still have a match to finish with Watson and Leonard, of which four sets were played on Wednesday. They also have to meet Wrann and the elder Larned. The summary:

Country Club of Westchester, Round Robin Invitation Men's Doubles-Fourth round-Harold H. Hackett and Raymond D. Little, West Side T. C., deteated William A. Lamed, Orange L. T. C., and George L. Wrenn, Jr., Country Club of Westchester, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0, Theodore-R. Pell and Robert LeRoy, New York L. T. C., defeated Irving C. Wright, Crescent A. C., and E. P. Lamed, Orange L. T. The Lakewood Yacht Club, which has an Cleveland, has a challenge trophy called the Alexander Winton competitive trophy, which is for yachts of the 18 foot knock-about class. This trophy is to be held by about class. This trophy is to be held by the yacht making the best record in three days of racing and is open to yachts enrolled in any yacht club on fresh water. The crews of the competing yachts must all be amateurs and the helmsman must be a member of the club in which the yacht is enrolled. Mr Winton deeded this trophy to the club last May, and the first series of races will be sailed on July 23, 24 and 25. The yachts will race over triangular courses on the first and third days and to windward and return on the second day. The triangular course will be sailed twice over and the windward or leeward course will be two miles to a leg, sailed rwice over. The vacht innking the highest percentage in the is foot class will win the Winton trophy, a champion-hip flag, and so in cash the second both will receive $40, the third $20, the fourth red and the floof class.
